Minden seeks answers

by Russ Duhaime

In the wake of the startling Dec. 7 funding announcement from the Ministry of Health, Minden Council is asking for an immediate public meeting with health care professionals.

Council has invited five of the key players in the local health care field to attend a meeting to be held some time this month.

In its letters, council says there has been a great deal of concern expressed by Minden and area residents regarding the consequences of the ministry's $10.6 million capital funding commitment. "The concern, we feel, is growing due to the lack of information and a fear of the unknown in reference to our health care."

Since there was no response to the Dec. 10 letters, Council sent a reminder last week urging an immediate response. "Council cannot stress enough the importance of immediately providing pertinent information to area constituents regarding our health care."

By Friday, the only response received was from Marshall Elliott, Executive Director of the District Health Council. Elliott said a Planning and Development Committee meeting is scheduled for January 18 when this committee will discuss the next steps in the process.

Others who have been invited to a meeting include ministry employees Dennis Forenc and Rebecca Harvey, David Thomas and Annabelle Garland.

The chief concern stemming from the ministry announcement is that Minden may lose its hospital. The ministry's approval for capital funding hinges on the consolidation of the county's two hospitals on one site. While the ministry did not stipulate where that consolidation will take place, Elliott implied in a CHEX television interview that it will be Haliburton.

County shopping for land-use plan

by Russ Duhaime

With the prospects of an in-house official plan four years down the road, Haliburton County Council has decided to look outside for estimates.

At the conclusion of a long and heated debate last Wednesday, Council decided to double check before accepting the county planner's appraisal of the situation.

Council was presented with an 18-page report on the state of the planning process just prior to Wednesday's meeting. Mark Stagg's report suggested it will take at least four more years before an official plan for land use will be ready for final approval. In addition, he estimated it will come at a cost of about $389,000.

In light of this disturbing information, council reluctantly decided to seek three estimates from consulting firms in an effort to determine if this can be done quicker and cheaper by shopping the project out.

This decision comes just two months after a narrow vote saved the county's three-year-old planning department from the scrap heap. If the estimates from any of the three consultants prove to be attractive, this may again put the department in jeopardy.

An official plan is a document which sets out the policies for land use within the county. According to Stagg, it is a "word picture of how the county should develop over the next 20 years."

Municipalities without plans are finding it increasingly difficult to get approval for land devel-

Fit For A King

Sean Carrell takes a hearty gulp from his goblet of grog during a Medieval feast at the Community Centre last Thursday. The afternoon of dining and entertainment was a wrap up for the Grade 5 classes' unit on the Medieval times. The hall was filled with knights and maidens, jesters and jugglers, kings and queens.

A Break with Tradition

Lutterworth Township Deputy Reeve Jim McMahon is Haliburton County's new warden. He edged out Sherborne Reeve Ross Rabjohn to become the first elected warden in recent history.

Warden elected

by Russ Duhaime

For the first time in recent history, Haliburton County has an elected Warden — sort of.

Lutterworth Township Deputy Reeve Jim McMahon won the right to fill the county's highest political office by the slimmest of margins Tuesday evening.

McMahon challenged Sherbourne Reeve Ross Rabjohn at the County's inaugural meeting in the Hyland Crest auditorium. With all 16 county councillors casting ballots, the result of the vote was a tie.

The tension of this landmark election was keen while acting CAO Ernie Hills counted the ballots in front of the small audience. He opened the ballots one at a time, making two neat piles. He counted eight in one pile and seven in the other. He recounted and got the same result. Finally, he tipped the ballot box and out floated the tying ballot.

Past Warden Chris Hodgson broke the tie by randomly drawing McMahon's name from a box.

Prior to the vote, each of the candidate provided short speeches outlining their feelings on how the county should proceed in the coming year. They both commented on the continuing struggle to continue to provide services in light of declining provincial and federal support. The key difference between the two candidates was in their views of what the county can and cannot afford to support.

McMahon offered a "pragmatic business approach" to the serious funding problems. In order to preserve the county as an affordable place to live, he said the county will have to take a hard look at the services it provides and decide which are mandated, which are optional, and which are expendable.

Rabjohn, on the other hand, had a slightly more optimistic outlook. He agreed the county is in an economie squeeze. He also agreed that large tax increases are a bad idea. However, he did not mention any program cuts in his remarks.

Rabjohn said this is not the time to hide in a shell like a tortoise. Neither is it time to run about in all directions like a hare. He said he prefers the cautious, plodding approach of the porcupine.

The county should focus on one key goal each year for five years, said Rabjohn. He endorsed the hiring of a new Chief Administrative Officer, working toward solving the county's space shortage, continuation of the 3R's portion of the Waste Management Masterplan and the development of an Official Plan for land use.

Despite the differing opinions and the division of the vote, the election took on a very polite tone. When McMahon's name was drawn, Rabjohn was the first to offer his congratulations and support.

The outgoing Warden, Hodgson, said the interest in this year's Wardenship is a positive thing. "This wasn't the first tie-breaker we've had to do. That's a healthy sign."

McMahon's acceptance speech was a bit more optimistic than his initial speech. In many respects, he said he agrees with Rabjohn. "We can turn Haliburton County around," he said, "but we have to do it slowly."

He borrowed Stelco's motto — "our product is steel, but our strength is people" — to define the county's greatest asset. He said the county has an excellent staff and council has to rely on their capabilities to make progress.

Further, he expressed optimism that Chris Hodgson will be like the steel in this motto. Hodgson will be the Progressive Conservative Candidate in a provincial by-election here. "If Chris is successful, we will have a voice at Queen's Park that we haven't had for some time," said McMahon. "He will be the steel."

Basic plan is preferred

opment. An official plan helps cut through the ministerial red tape and speeds up the process. Currently, only three of the 10 municipalities in this county have official plans; Minden, Dysart and Cardiff.

Dysart Township Deputy Reeve Curry Bishop expressed frustration over the perception that an official plan must be a complicated, all-encompassing document. He said this county needs a simple plan that will not require expert interpretation at every turn. "We should not put out anything that could complicate things," he said.

Bishop said he knows of a municipality that has a simple 33-page plan. He this works very well because everyone on council understands it.

Although there is a consensus that an official plan is needed, some felt there was no need to look outside the county for assistance. The process of developing an a plan began when Stagg was hired in 1990, and some feel the county should try to stay on its present course. Others, however, are hoping a private consulting firm may be able to speed up the process.

When it was put to a vote, councillors decided by a 9-7 margin to seek estimates from consultants. The consultants will also be advised of the work that has already been done.

Cardiff trustee named new chair of school board

by Andy Holloway

The new school board chair is optimistic about the future of education in Haliburton County although a number of major problems will have to be dealt with.

Cardiff trustee Lloyd Griffiths was acclaimed the new board chair at last Tuesday's board meeting. During the past year he has served as the board's vice-chair, a position which was given to Sherborne trustee John Munro after he won an election against Dysart's Wayne Woods.

Griffiths said the economy is dictating how people and governments plan for the future and that accountability is necessary.

"We're facing a very strange time in the lives of everyone in this room and everyone in Haliburton County. For the first time in two generations, 50 years, we're facing reality in life."

In the next few years the school board will have to implement junior kindergarten, introduce employment equity and deal with reduced provincial grants, Griffiths said.

Still, he said he remains hopeful adding that Haliburton County has a number of advantages. Griffiths listed a staff

School board enters county hospital fray

by Andy Holloway

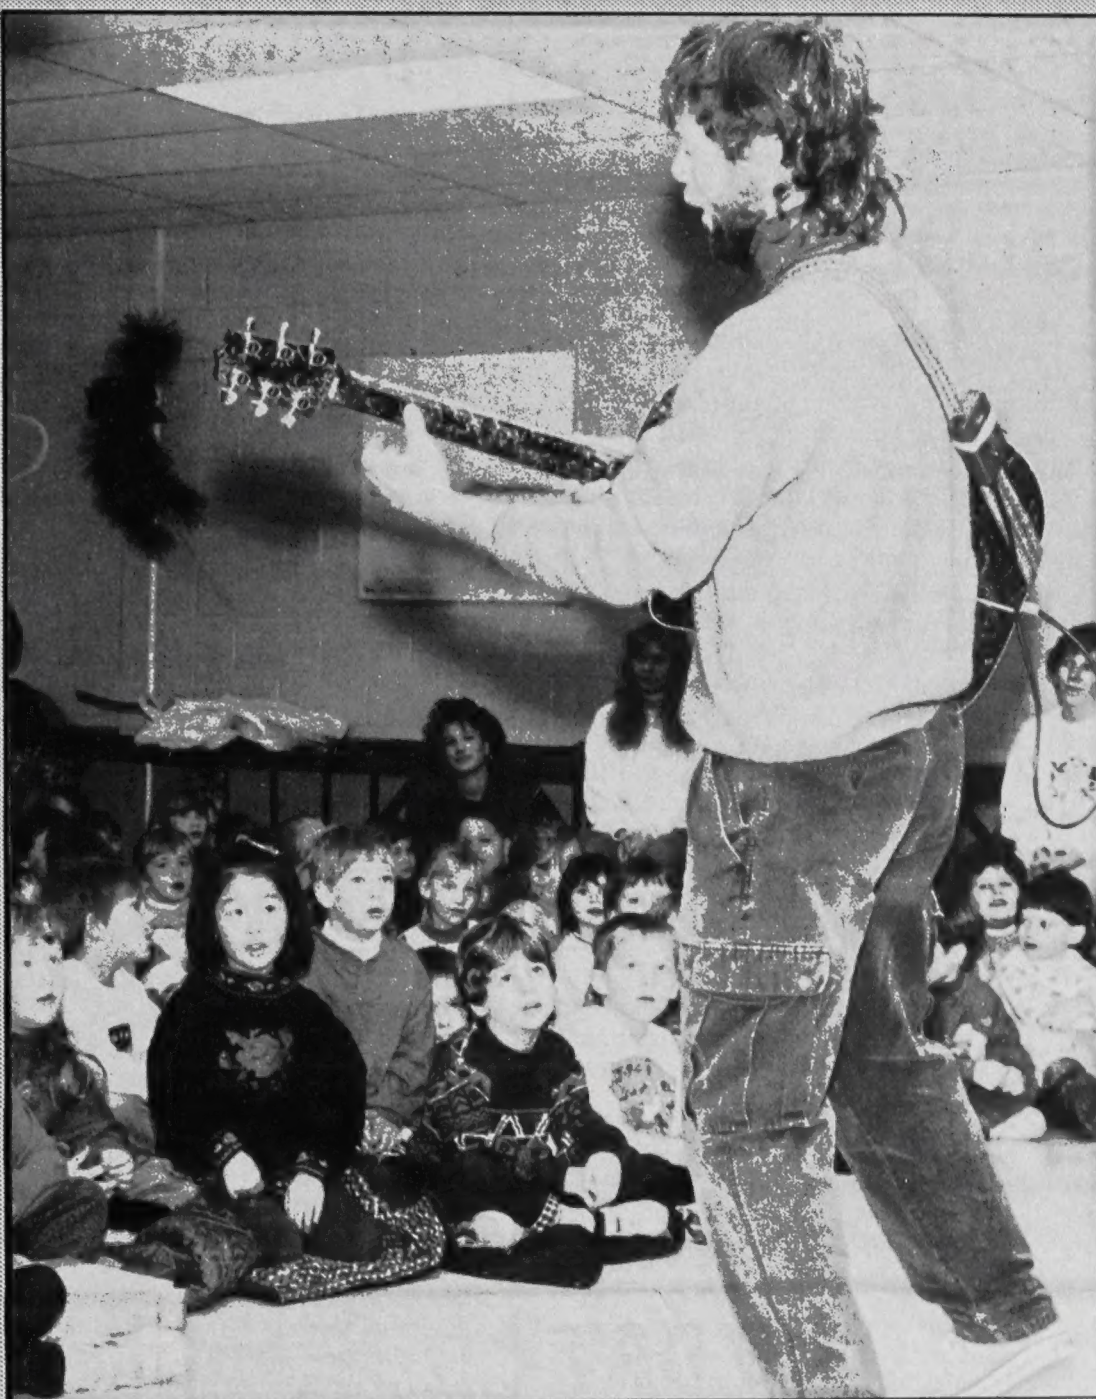

Add one more player to the hospital debate in Haliburton county. The Board of Education will be sending a letter to the Ministry of Health and the District Health Council to express its concerns over the future of the two hospitals.

Director Brad Saunders brought the idea of a letter forth at the school board meeting last Tuesday. The letter will ask that both hospitals continue in their present capacities with no reduction in services at either Minden or Haliburton Hospital.

The board noted that the population of both centres and their schools continue to climb and that the health and safety of the young adults and children in school must be safeguarded.

Not everyone was happy with the proposed letter. Wayne Woods (Dysart) said the board should not be sticking its nose in health matters when the board does not like having the health ministry put its nose in education.

But Wendy Ladurantaye (Minden) said the letter would not be political in nature and that it would only make health officials aware that there are a lot of students in and around both centres. Bryan Kernohan (Minden) said it would be nice to be privy to the comments and decisions made by the proposed new health care steering committee. The board, however, decided that it should try and get a member on the committee although individuals could apply if they wish.

Hey Kids! Sing along

The younger students from Archie Stouffer were treated to another performance by wacky entertainer Dave Archibald last Wednesday morning at the Community Centre. His performance of Teddy Bear's Christmas delighted the youngsters and a few of the teachers and assistants were caught smiling as well. As is usual with Archibald's concerts, the kids got to participate and sing a few songs like Rudolph the Rednosed Reindeer.

County sets committee structure

Haliburton County Council is heading into the final leg of its three-year term with some minor adjustments to its committee structure.

Setting the committees proved to be a struggle this year, with a dispute over the chairmanship of the Hyland Crest Committee. Snowdon Reeve George Simmons was returned to this post.

The following are the county's committees and their memberships:

Finance and Correspondence

Lewis Stevens (chair), Tom Elliott, Curry Bishop, Ross Rabjohn and Glen Madill

Hyland Crest

George Simmons (chair), Hans Liebman, Chris Hodgson, Fred Gardener and Keith Tallman

Social Services

Eleanor Harrison (chair), Mack Peters, Bern Berry, Hans Stevens and Bev MacDuff.

Library

Mack Peters (chair), Glen Madill and Hans Stevens.

Personnel

Fred Gardener (chair), Ross Rabjohn and Bern Berry.

Other committee appointments are as follows: Chamber of Commerce, Bev MacDuff; Children's Aid Society, Keith Tallman; Water levels, Fred Gardener; Social Action Committee, Eleanor Harrison, Bern Berry, Fred Gardener and Chris Hodgson will again sit as members of the health care planning and development committee.

Township gets tough with taxes

by Jerry Grozelle

Businesses within the jurisdiction of Laxton, Digby and Longford will be served notice that they will have to settle their business tax arrears by December 30 or risk having assets seized by the County Bailiff.

LDL Council gave Township Clerk Brenda Greer authorization at the December council meeting to contact the bailiff to have assets seized if business taxes in arrears aren't paid by that date.

Celebrity Dog Race

A committee has been struck to organize a Celebrity Dog Sled Race in and around Norland this winter. The tentative date for the event has been set for February 19.

Celebrity participants will get pledges prior to the race.

Sleds and dogs to pull them will be provided by the Central Ontario Division of the Siberian Husky Club of Canada.

The Celebrity event will be held in conjunction with the annual Sled Dog Races at Ward Memorial Park.

Plans haven't been finalized yet but the usual way the Celebrity Sled Dog races are held are as follows: Celebrities are required to bring a sleeping bag. They remove boots and coats and get into the sleeping bag. When the starting whistle sounds, they have to get out of the sleeping bag, don boots and coat, roll up the sleeping bag, stow it on the sled, get on the back of the sled and drive to the finish line.

"It's usually the one who is fastest at getting out of the sleeping bag and rolling it up who wins the race," said Tom Iliffe of the Siberian Husky Club.

The object of the event is to raise funds for the LDL Recreation Department.

Chairman urges full co-operation that is equal to any in Ontario, top-notch administration, and helpful custodians and secretaries.

"Every person who works in our schools may be there to earn a dollar, but they are also there to provide the best opportunity for learning for our students."

During the past year the board has implemented destreaming, semestering, is getting close to a common curriculum and has rebuilt Archie Stouffer Elementary School. These are all programs that the people of Haliburton should be proud of and demonstrate what can be done if people set their biases aside, said Griffiths. He noted that the pioneers of this county had it far tougher than people today, but the community grew because everyone worked together to be successful.

Finally, Griffiths offered this as a motto for the school board: "Can we succeed? We can and we will."

For his part, Munro agreed that the board is facing "difficult and challenging times" but that in the past he has found the board and staff have approached every situation with a positive and professional attitude.

Man of the Year

Bob Beeney honoured by Minden Rotary

by Russ Duhaime

Bob Beeney's quiet efforts to improve community life were brought to the fore last Monday when he was named Citizen of the Year by the Minden Rotary Club.

The Lutterworth Township man has logged countless hours of volunteer service over the past 30 or 40 years, with little recognition. And that's just the way he likes it.

The award was presented by Rotarian and Minden Councillor Gerald Rome. He praised Beeney for his continuous efforts as a member of the Staunworth Non Profit Housing Board, the Health Care Planning and Development Committee and other assorted activities.

In addition to everything else, Beeney has served two terms as the Reeve of Lutterworth Township and now serves on Minden's Roads Committee.

He said Beeney goes about his volunteer work with great dedication and little fanfare. "He refuses leadership roles to avoid the attention," said Rome.

Beeney was even humble in his acceptance of the honour. He noted that there are 13 people on the Staunworth board who deserve much of the credit for the accomplishments.

And although he is no longer a member of the Planning and Development Committee, Beeney's commitment to the goal of improved health care in Minden has not waned. He said it is clear that another fundraising drive will be launched and asked Rotarians to keep him in mind, "because I'll be there to help."

As part of this honour, the Rotary Club is prepared to make a $200 donation on Beeney's behalf to the charity of his choice. Without hesitation, Beeney has asked that it be placed in the Minden Hospital Building Fund.

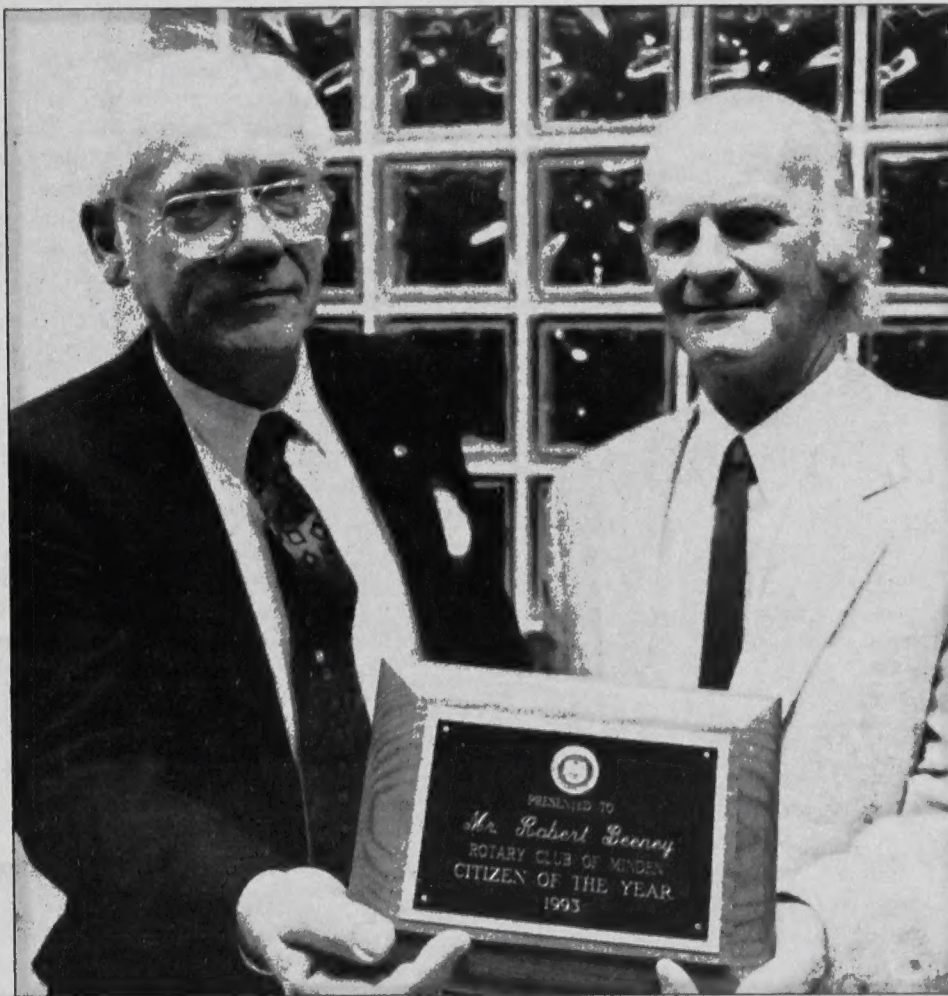

"Honourable Member"

Beeney was not the only person to be honoured by Rotary at Monday's meeting. The club decided to grant its first honorary membership to past Rotarian Bob Penfold.

Penfold was a member of the Minden Rotary Club for almost 20 years before stepping down this year. In a glowing introduction from Rotarian Bill Obee, Penfold's commitment to the club and to the community was said to typify the Rotary motto. "He's a stunning example of service above self," said Obee.

One of Penfold's chief involvements in the organization was with the Rotary Youth Exchange. He served as the coordinator when the program was introduced and continues to support its aims. And although he left the club earlier this year, Penfold volunteered to assist with this year's exchange. It's partially because of this willingness to continue to work on Rotary projects that the club decided to make him an honorary member.

Bob Beeney (right) was presented with a plaque honouring him as he Citizen of the Year by Minden Councillor Gerry Rome.

Honour restored to wardenship

It's no longer just a plum. For the first time in decades, Haliburton County's warden has earned the title by winning the position through an open, democratic process.

Lutterworth Township Deputy Reeve Jim McMahon threw tradition to the wind last week by forcing an election for the highest political office within the county. He let his name stand alongside Sherborne Reeve Ross Rabjohn's and made his fellow councillors choose who is best suited to lead the county through what promises to be another very difficult year.

Ultimately, the choice came down to the luck of the draw when the vote came out a tie. Still, the democratic process, the unprecedented interest in leadership, and brief open campaign are indications that this county may finally be willing to abandon some of its draconian traditions.

This election is a far cry better than the traditional selection process which was loosely based on a rotation system and was suggestive of hidden handshakes and back-room dealing.

Indeed, Haliburton County is coming of age. We extend our congratulations to both candidates in this election. We're confident that McMahon can do an excellent job. We're also proud of the classy fashion in which Rabjohn accepted what must have been a very difficult defeat.

We need answers

The people of Minden are frightened, outraged and confused over the potential consequences of a Ministry of Health announcement that hints at the impending closure of our hospital.

On December 7, the Ministry of Health dropped a ticking time bomb into our laps. It's capital funding commitment drastically alters the direction that many assumed our local health care system was headed. Instead of balanced and parallel systems to serve the two distinct communities, the ministry has proposed the consolidation of most long-term and acute-care facilities in one location. In doing so, the ministry has raised many questions and concerns. Yet, we have nowhere to turn for answers.

St. Joseph's is on its way out; a new hospital board is possibly months away; the Planning and Development Committee lacks credibility on these questions, and we have no Member of Provincial Parliament.

With this in mind, Minden Council has stepped into the fray in a laudable bid to ease the tension by seeking out the answers to our questions. Council is attempting to organize an immediate public meeting with health care officials. To date, however, these officials are unresponsive to Minden's request.

We agree with council's assessment of the situation. There is a growing fear of the unknown that will not be eased until this community has the opportunity to hear from those involved in the ministry's decision. It is imperative that these officials comply with the request for an immediate public meeting.

Take vacations in Canada not abroad, reader urges

Editor,

The national unemployment rate runs around 11 per cent. However, in Victoria-Haliburton, unemployment ranges from 20 to 30 per cent. Our community depends heavily on tourism. Did you know that in the first quarter of 1993, Canadians spent $3 billion in the United States on leisure travel? This is at a time of serious recession.

It is a sad commentary on the state of our national pride when we won't spend our dollars supporting our own country and businesses. We travel freely outside this country. We arrange shopping trips across the border. And those of us who are truly blessed and retired, spend several months a year outside the country, creating absolutely no benefit to the Canadian economy. And then we bemoan the fact that so many are unemployed, because it increases our taxes.

To add insult to injury, new political parties like the Reform Party organize themselves around platforms like reduced access to UIC and welfare. And we all applaud because we are sick to death of the taxes we are required to pay to support our social safety nets. Not only do we not support our own country, but we can't wait until the day we can kick some serious butt by cutting back on our safety nets.

I am not suggesting that we remove the ability of Canadians to make free choices as to how they will spend their dollars or their leisure time. However, let us all be clear about the impact our decisions have on the Canadian economy. Perhaps then we will be less inclined to bash the unemployed and maybe even develop a little compassion for the plight of these victims of our current economic condition.

If there were a possibility of attitude transplants, I would wish one on every Canadian. The people of the U.S. could teach us a lot about national pride. We pretend to be proud Canadians, but our collective actions make me wonder.

Minden has 'cohesive medical team'

Editor,

We are writing in response to Ruby Way's comment that Minden lacks "the cohesive medical team to staff a hospital." How does Mrs. Way think that the hospital in Minden has been successfully run to date if there is no cohesive medical team? The Minden hospital has, over many years, developed a first-class reputation, particularly in relation to the emergency services, as attested to by numerous letters of gratitude to the newspapers and comments on CBC radio.

As Mrs. Way is not even remotely involved in the running of the hospital, we feel that she should not have made a judgement based on no information.

Traditionally, the Minden physicians have an amicable medical duty rota that covers all hospital care. This rota is adhered to in a professional manner and the Minden physicians willingly co-operate in assisting each other in every patient crisis situation, working together for the patient as a team.

There is maximum co-operation regarding holidays, etc., and doctors from one office frequently cover the hospital services for the other office should a physician be unable to work at short notice.

This rota has been successfully working for so many years that it is drawn up every month by a secretary, and changes, if any, are made over the telephone. In fact, Mrs. Way criticized one of our proudest achievements, and that is our traditionally well organized co-operative and very willing medical team that services the Minden Hospital.

The Chief of Medical Staff at St. Joseph's Hospital has standard basic requirements of all physicians, solely, and as a team, which they must fulfil to ensure a hospital is serviced properly.

The Minden team not only adheres to these requirements but frequently surpasses them in terms of co-operation with each other. Many lives have been saved over the years due to the team effort made at the Minden Hospital by the doctors and nurses.

Get your facts straight, Mrs. Way!

Anglican Rector demands apology

Editor,

I am writing to you in regard to the publication of a letter to the editor, November 29, under the headline "Church deli ad a sign of the times."

I think you have shown very poor judgement in choosing to print this letter for the reason that it is insulting to the Anglican people of western Haliburton County, among whom are some of your most valued and concerned citizens.

By printing this letter, you have allowed your paper to be used to promote a narrow sectarian point of view as regards the Christian faith. It is one thing for a weekly paper to allow accredited local clergy or lay persons to write a column of general religious interest, but it is quite another to publish a letter which in reality is thinly disguised hate literature.

I think you owe the people of the Anglican Parish of St. Paul's Minden and St. Peter's Maple Lake a public apology for printing the above letter, and to all the readers of your paper a clear statement of policy as to the future publication of letters to the editor which contain scriptural references or Biblical analogies that are directed against other Christians. Without such a policy, I fear you will open a Pandora's box of censoriousness which will be to the benefit of no one.

James Stevenson,
Rector, Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Chatham

Editor's Note: The Times letters policy is printed at the top of page 9. We do not intend to draft a policy specific to scriptural references.

Surveys are just a waste of our time

Editor,

After reading the front page of last week's Times, I have three questions to ask:

1. Why were we given an information survey sheet to fill out? Who would consider these sheets? The same old committee from Haliburton and their administrator, as we have none in Minden now? Why waste time and money printing this?

2. Why was the meeting in Haliburton mentioned as such a success for Mr. Lussing? If Minden was given the same deal — everything the community wants — there would be no one objecting.

3. Stuart Baker should get an A on his speech for co-operation, but why don't the people in Haliburton practice what he's preaching? In July, I asked three questions pertaining to Hyland Crest and I am still waiting for the answers. I must say I don't see much improvement. It was a sad day for Minden when Doug Campbell resigned from our hospital board and was replaced by Rheta Jones.

Last hippie still swinging in Paris

Giving a party is like having a baby. Its conception is more fun than its completion, and once you've begun, it's impossible to stop.

— Jan Struthers

Want to go to a party? You're invited.

I'm serious. The party is this coming Sunday and it's strictly "come as you are." I guarantee you that there will be lots to eat and drink. I can't say for sure who'll be there, but you can expect at least 50 other folks to show up - and they'll be from every walk of life you can imagine.

At the last party there was an anesthetist from Martinique, an Algerian-born cancer researcher, a French film maker, a Scottish golfer, a photographer from Cincinnati, two students from Montreal, a surfer from South Africa, and two hairdressers from New Westminster, B.C.

And that's just the people who were standing around the chip dip.

You'll encounter folks who speak Canadian, American, Australian, Irish, Scottish and English. You will also hear conversations in Spanish, French, Italian, Rumanian and even Swahili is not out of the question.

There are, ahhh, one or two catches however. First it's going to cost you about $25 for the

by Arthur Black

evening - but hey! That's a bargain for all the food, wine and conversation you can handle, right?

The second catch is more daunting.

If you want to go to this party, you have to make your way to Paris, France.

Well, that's where the party is. In a somewhat cramped studio apartment just off the Rue de la Tombe Issoire, to be exact, in the 14th arrondissement of the French capital.

It's Jim Haynes pad. Jim is an American expatriate, a part-time lecturer, a travel writer and perhaps the last professional hippie in existence. Working hippie, that is. He's lived and worked in Paris since the late 70s. And every Sunday he's thrown a party for the first 50 or so people who come through his door.

Well, it's not quite that simple, but almost. Jim Haynes prefers his guests to telephone ahead and let him know they're coming. That way he knows how much to cook. But as far as place settings go, it's first come, first served. Jim doesn't give a rap if you're a millionaire or on the dole, a Lord Mayor or a lumberjack. Nobody gets invited because they're rich and famous and nobody - save drunks and gate-crashers - gets turned down.

"The first 50 people to call me each week are in," says Jim. "But I leave a few extra places for the ones that arrive in town the day before and don't call until Saturday or Sunday."

Haynes isn't in it for the money. The 75 francs he charges each guest barely covers the food and the wine - and any profit he makes is donated to his favourite east European charities. Haynes is one of those rarest of birds - a born host who just loves to help strangers meet one another.

"If there's been one theme running through my life it's been introducing people to other people. A few come to my Sunday dinners just to eat and drink, but I think most of them come to meet people they would never have met otherwise."

Indeed. I am not personally what you would call a party animal. I generally find them to be fetes worse than death. But then I've never been to Jim Haynes place. If my bateau comes in and I get to spend some holiday time in Paris, I know how I'm going to pass at least one Sunday evening.

Chances are you're richer and/or luckier than I am and a holiday in Paris figures on your travel plans. If so scribble this address on the inside cover of your passport and drop Jim Haynes a line at: Atelier A-2, 83 Rue de la Tombe Issoire, 75014, Paris, 43.27.17.67 or 43.27.19.09.

And bon appetit.

Health committee needs support from community

Editor,

We now have a decision from the provincial government regarding health care in Haliburton County. Reports lead us to believe there will be 30 long-term-care beds added to Haliburton Hospital. This announcement comes right after Ruth Grier's blue paper on long term care. Her blue paper states that in the near future less than 10 per cent of the long-term-care beds in the province will be privately operated. Does this mean our private nursing home industry is going by the wayside?

The government has told us we will no longer have two hospitals for the county. Fair enough, we do need medical facilities and our present status does need upgrading. We will also see job losses due to amalgamation. We may see some temporary job creation during the building phase, but what will happen after?

The government, with provision of expanded support services, is looking toward less institutional care.

There are a lot of options out there. The new committee for health care in Haliburton County has some very difficult tasks and questions to address. It will need all the support it can muster through periods of painful deliberation.

The committee needs our support, so let's get together and make the best of what could otherwise become a bad situation. Let cooler heads prevail, because after working with government over the last seven years, I have found that if one does not move with the government, it will step in and do things its way. We can surely lose then.

Invest in hair spray today, save some dollars tomorrow

It's like 1984, just ten years late. Beginning in April next year the government will be poking its nose into your innermost secrets.

As you drive along the province's highways, a camera will photograph you and your car. If your car is speeding you will be automatically convicted and fined. I say 'your car' because even if you are not in the car you will be liable for the offence. No trial, no defence, no court appearance.

The Ministry of Transportation says it is trying to cut down on the number of speeders and the number of accidents, with the use of this technological monitoring. Critics say it's just another tax grab by a province running out of things to tax.

But aside from the billions of dollars this radar system will eventually bring in, there is another more important question.

Is this the start of the Orwellian vision?

George Orwell's book '1984' imagined a future where individuals were monitored by the authorities in every aspect of their lives. The NDP government seems to want to make this vision come true.

It's true that individual stores have in-store monitoring systems to reduce the amount of shoplifting and banks have long had security cameras to help identify robbers. But these systems are on private property where the rights of the store owners are greater than the rights of people trying to rip them off.

The NDP is trying to monitor the general public in a public setting. There may be some good benefits to the radar system if it does reduce speeding and traffic fatalities. But the rights of the individual are being trampled on here.

It would be great if nobody smoked and, therefore, the cost of health care would decrease. Govern-

Rantin'n' Ravin'

by Andy Holloway

ments have tried to prevent people from smoking by raising taxes and public education, but imagine if we applied the photo radar system to smoking.

Every time you lit up a cigarette the government could watch you and perhaps phone you up and whisper ominous death statistics to you. Wouldn't that be fun?

Or if you were a drug user, the government could set up a camera in your home and then charge you every time you inhaled, snorted or injected a substance.

Getting back to the highway radar system, what is to prevent the government from charging people whose cars have a taillight missing, or an out-of-date sticker, or are doing something not quite legal in the front seat of their car with their partner?

And of course, where there is an unfair system, people will try to figure out a way to abuse it. Toronto radio talk shows last week received calls from parts of the United States where similar systems are in place. These clever callers suggested that motorists spray license plates with hair spray. Apparently, hair spray makes license plates glare and thus obscures the photo that the radar system takes.

No doubt, there will be a lot of screwy-eyed bureaucrats hunkering over desks trying to make out whether the last character is a '2' or a 'Z'.

If this is true, and I had a few bucks lying around, I would start investing in cosmetic companies. They are going to make a fortune in hair spray.

OMHA Bantams continue winning streak

Two more wins were chalked up by the Minden Monarchs OMHA Bantams as they continued their hot play.

On December 11 the Bantams travelled to Sunderland and came away with 5-3 victory.

Minden started the scoring in the first when Marty Dettman put one in, assisted by Dave Raback and Darren Mills. But before the end of the period Sunderland came back to tie it up.

In the second, Chris Eskelin scored, assisted by Raback and Ben Ripley. Sunderland, however, scored two goals to take the lead.

Minden scored three times in the third to keep their winning streak alive. Jeff Wray started off the scoring with an unassisted marker. Wray then scored again, with assists going to Dennis Woods and Rob Camelon. Raback then scored an unassisted insurance goal to seal the win.

The next day in Omeme, Minden cruised to an easy 11-1 victory.

Omeme spoiled Justin Rowden's shut-out bid in third period with their only goal.

There was no scoring in the first period, but Minden scored six in the second and five in the third to win easily.

The goals were, in order: Sheamus Donnery from Dave Raback and Daniel Howell, Chris Eskelin unassisted, Eskelin from Donnery, Howell unassisted, Donnery from Raback and Eskelin, Tom Bagshaw unassisted, Dennis Woods from Curtis Fielding and Jeff Wray, Eskelin from Woods and Raback, Woods from Marty Dettman, Raback from Darren Mills and Woods unassisted.

Two boys earned hat tricks - Eskelin and Woods.

Falcons' double whammy

by Andy Holloway

The Fenelon Falls Falcons proved to be too much for the Haliburton Highlands Redmen to handle, sweeping a two game home-and-home series last week.

The Falcons beat the Redmen 5-2 on Tuesday night in Fenelon, but the Redmen regained a sense of pride with a tough 4-2 loss the next night in Haliburton.

The Redmen came very close to winning the second game and with a little luck would have pulled off an upset. The Falcons jumped out front with just over seven minutes left to play in the first period. Chris Duggan's shot from the point hit the post, but the rebound came right to Tim Teel who buried it behind Redmen goalie Peter Brohman.

The Redmen, however, picked up the pace and once they started taking the body they created a number of chances for themselves. The best chance to score was by Greg Stamp who was set up beautifully at the side of the goal, but he could not bang it home. Jeff Black and Jackie Morrison both had great, clean body checks on a pair of Falcons. The first period ended 1-0 for Fenelon.

After Stamp hit the post on a good chance early in the second, Bill Bradley finally tied it up.

(more on page 15)

Haliburton Redmen's Greg Stamp moves in on Fenelon Falls Falcons' goalie Steve Thomas, but can't pull the trigger during second period action last Wednesday. The Redmen lost the game 4-2, but played well.

Football Redmen get too much attention, trustee says

by Andy Holloway

The board of education seems to be tiring of fund-raising requests from area schools, particularly the high school football team.

Haliburton Highlands principal Gary Brohman asked on behalf of the senior football team that the board grant the team $500 and approve a fund-raising campaign to help with celebrations of the team's COSSA championship.

The $500 donation, which would have been used to assist in the costs of a banquet for the team, was turned down by trustees who said that no other team gets that kind of extra funding.

Dysart trustee Tim Casey said he is sick of football getting all the attention. "The soccer team won their league, they didn't go the Central Ontario's like the football team did, but all they got was a little corner in the newspaper."

The fund-raising request was tabled until the next board meeting to learn more about the team's plans. The monies raised from the campaign would be used to help offset the costs of framed championship pictures and/or football championship rings. Principal Brohman said the boys deserve the board's support because they have put in long hours of training to achieve a goal of which both the school and the county can be proud.

Novice A's getting stronger

Wins over Cannington, tie with Beaverton show Monarchs' players are still improving

The Ontario Hydro Novice A Monarchs are stronger and showing more individually skilled efforts as they continue their season.

The Cannington Kings moved up from the 'B' division and lost to Minden 6-2 in Cannington on December 2. Ben Carpenter had a hat trick with Andy Kinsman assisting on all three. Jordan Campbell picked up another assist. Kinsman also had two goals with Carpenter assisting on one and Campbell assisting on the other, Jamie Colliss scored the other Minden goal with an assist from Nicholas Mitchell.

On December 4, Fenelon Falls beat Minden 8-2. Campbell scored the first goal for Minden right off the bat, but only Kinsman, from Carpenter, could score another goal. The Monarchs did play well in the third, holding off the Flyers from scoring any more goals.

Haliburton beat Minden 7-0 on December 8, but Minden rebounded to take three of a possible four points on December 11.

In a morning game, Minden tied Beaverton 4-4. Kinsman opened the scoring in the first with assists from Colliss and Mitchell. There was no scoring in the second period, but Beaverton scored two quick goals in the third. Minden, however, responded with three of their own goals. Kinsman scored goal number two and three for a hat trick. The first was unassisted and the second was assisted by Colliss and Mitchell. Defenceman Greg Vanderlip put the Monarchs ahead 4-3 after a blast from the blue line. Unfortunately Beaverton did manage to tie the game.

Later that afternoon Minden beat Cannington 9-3. Evan Kernohan had a natural hat trick in the first period. Two goals were unassisted while Mitchell and Vanderlip assisted on the third. Mitchell then scored with Kernohan and Vanderlip assisting.

Kernohan added another hat trick with Mitchell and Lance Aggett assisting on two of the goals, the other being unassisted. Colliss scored the last goal with an assist from Carpenter.

On December 12, Minden visited Fenelon Falls and was again beaten by the Flyers, this time 3-0.

As in the game against Beaverton there were plenty of end-to-end rushes. The Monarchs showed Fenelon that they can be tough too. It was not so easy for the Flyers to win this time around.

The Monarchs should be proud of their hard team effort, especially since they were short two players.

Westside, Sid Stamp capture second wins

KDD continued its slide after being doubled up by Sid Stamp 6-3 in Minden Men's Hockey action last Monday.

Alec Little and Charlie Teljeur each had a pair of goals and two assists to lead the Stampers to their second win of the year. Jeff Howe scored twice and added an assist in a losing effort for KDD who has now lost two in a row.

The Stampers took a 3-2 lead entering the second period as Little scored his team's first two goals and Gord Wood added another. Little's first goal was unassisted while the second was assisted by Teljeur and Wood. Teljeur and Little received assists on Wood's goal.

Scoring for KDD were Howe, unassisted, and Ivan Ingram, assisted by Howe and Les Tomso. KDD managed just one more goal in the second period, that by Howe, assisted by Tomso and Steve Stewart.

Meanwhile, the Stampers scored three times to increase their advantage. Teljeur scored both of his goals in the second; the first one unassisted, the second assisted by Little and Wood. Craig Crowe rounded out the scoring with a goal assisted by Ben Manuge and Bill Hogg.

KDD still sits in third place, but now sits just three points ahead of the Stampers and the suddenly hot Westside Jug City which won its second game in a row with an 8-3 pounding of The Times.

Dave Pettes scored a hat trick and added an assist for Westside while Tom Haley had three assists to go along with a single goal.

Westside took a 3-2 lead in the first after first falling behind 1-0. Andy Campbell opened the scoring and gave The Times a 1-0 lead after converting passes from Clarke Craig and Harold Cowen. Pettes then scored two straight goals to give Westside the edge. Both goals were assisted by Mike Keaney while Steve Crowe and Eldon Bull also picked up points.

The Times tied it up on a goal by Joel Cox, assisted by Craig and Derek Barnett. Paul Mayo, however, gave Westside the lead for

PeeWee A's win two

The PeeWee A Monarchs played Ops on December 4 and lost 4-0. The next day they played Ops again, but this time they won 3-2.

Scoring for Minden were Chris Neilson and Steve Ecclestone while assists were given to Corey Casey and Shawn Peirson.

Redmen dumped by Falcons

Morrison made a good rush down the left side and put a perfectly placed pass onto the stick of Bradley who made no mistake. Bradley did a good job in fighting off a Falcon defender, who was draped all over him.

With three minutes left in the period, Tim Teel put the Falcons ahead when they moved in on Brohman with four Redmen caught up ice.

Chris Greenfield scored just 20 seconds later to tie it up again. Greenfield blasted a 50 foot slap shot by Falcons' goalie Steve Thomas. Bradley and Mike MacKenzie picked up assists on the goal.

The third period saw the Redmen suffer some more bad luck. Morrison had an open net to shoot at but hit the post to keep the score at 2-2. Brohman did his best to keep the Redmen tied making an outstanding save midway through the period. The puck was cleared in by the Falcons and as Brohman moved behind the net to play it, the puck bounced crazily in front. Brohman scrambled back in front in time to make a great sliding save and preserve the tie.

But with five minutes left in the game Andrew Handley snapped a 30 footer by Brohman to give the Falcons a 3-2 lead. With 45 seconds left, Brohman was pulled for an extra attacker, but the only scoring was done by the Falcons.

The previous night in Fenelon Falls, the Redmen fell behind 3-0 early and despite a late rally, lost 5-2.

The Falcons jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first and then stretched that to 4-0 in the second. The Redmen, however, came alive in the third scoring twice to cut their disadvantage. Jackie Morrison scored the first Redmen goal with Jonathon Bishop assisting. A short time later, Greg Stamp scored with Bill Bradley and Mark Stamp picking up assists.

But the Falcons also added a goal in the third to put the game out of reach.

Novice B's beat Wilberforce twice

Yes, there is a Novice B Minden Monarchs team. The B's have had a tough first trial schedule with 12 games played and two wins against Wilberforce to show for it. The first win was a 5-2 decision. Colin Vaters scored a hat trick with assists from Justin Horsley. James Bleakly also had a goal assisted by Willy Meecham and Horsley scored one of his own with assists from Shane Both and Meecham.

The next win against Wilberforce was a 3-2 squeaker. The goals were scored by Kevin Walker, Colin Vaters and Justin Horsley. Assisting on those goals were Willy Meecham and Shane Both.

On December 5, coach Kelly Young attended the Tri-County scheduling meeting to schedule games with other teams in our division. The first game was against the Haliburton Huskies. The Huskies struck first early in the game, but moments later Colin Vaters scored an unassisted goal to tie the game at 1-1.

The second period featured end-to-end action and both teams had several opportunities to take the lead. Monarchs' goalie Alex Lyddiatt would not let the puck go by him. With just 11 seconds left in the period Kevin Walker broke out and scored the go-ahead goal.

Minutes after the third period started Walker won a face-off and passed it to Benji Saunders who had no problem scoring the Monarchs' third goal.

But the Huskies never gave up and they scored a goal late in the period to cut the lead to one. They then pulled their goalie to put an extra attacker out on the ice, but the Monarchs' defencemen - Matthew Young, Chad Carpenter, Kyle Danilko and Shane Both - kept the puck out of their territory and gave the Monarchs a hard-earned 3-2 victory.

Home Hardware, Hartwick still tied good with the final goal of the period assisted by Gary Nelson and Haley. The second period was all Westside's as they scored five times. Only Campbell could crack the twine behind Duane Lennie for The Times. That goal was assisted by Jim Pettes and Barnett.

Scoring for Westside were Bull, Dave Rodgers, Dave Pettes, Daryl Ward and Haley. Picking up assists were Haley and Nelson with two each and Steve Crowe, Bull, Mayo, Keaney and Pettes with singles.

Every player except goalie Lennie and one other player managed to get on the scoreboard for Westside. The Times is now mired in last spot, three points behind Westside and Sid Stamp.

The final game of the night was between the two top teams in the league, Hartwick and Home Hardware. As you might expect the outcome was a tie. Hartwick jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first period. Scott Hamilton scored the first goal with assists from Ron May and John Ballantyne. Chad Connelly put Hartwick up by two on a goal assisted by Jay Horsley.

Home Hardware cut the lead in half early in the second on a goal by Tom Miscio, assisted by Trini Elias and Doug Allison. Elias assisted on all three goals by Home Hardware.

Connelly restored a two goal margin for Hartwick on a goal assisted by Hamilton and Andy Scoling. The Hardy boys bounced back with two goals of their own to tie the game. Allison scored to start the comeback with assists from Elias and Boomer Stamp. The final goal was scored by Stamp with assists from Allison and Elias.

Somerville sets service rates for user-pay sewer system

by Jerry Grozelle

Somerville Council passed a by-law last week setting the service rates (user charges) for sewer hook-up in Coboconk.

Since connection to Coboconk's new municipal sewer system has been an ongoing proposition, charges will apply on a pro-rated basis. Customers will only pay for the months that they have been hooked up.

The service rate has been established at $28 per month for residential connections. Businesses will pay $42 per month and hook-ups that have both a business and residence on the same line will pay a monthly rate of $56.

JEPP Grand Denied

After debating the need for emergency power at the Township Office in the event of a power failure, Somerville Council decided to decline the offer of a $4,500 JEPP (Joint Emergency Preparedness Program) grant to purchase and install an emergency generator.

Total cost of the proposed installation would have been $10,000. The township would have been responsible for the remaining $5,500.

The general consensus among councillors was that they couldn't justify spending $5,500 at this time.

Credit Union Plans

A proposal to test the viability of establishing a Credit Union in Kinmount will get some help from Somerville Township.

Somerville Council agreed to allow a questionnaire to be circulated with its first tax bills of the new year.

By including the questionnaire with the tax bills, it will reach all of the ratepayers, including those who are seasonal residents of the area.

Council was informed that two of the conditions that must be met if a Credit Union is to be formed are that it must have a minimum of $1-million in deposits and $2-million in loans.

Translated into terms of deposits per customer, if 5,000 people signed up to join the Credit Union, they would have to deposit an average of $200 each. In terms of loans, 40 mortgage loans of $50,000 each would be enough.

Councils of adjacent townships will also be approached to see if they will include the questionnaire with their tax bills.

Jobs Ontario

Somerville Council will be applying to Jobs Ontario for a $40,000 grant to repair the dock at Coboconk.

Wages Frozen

Employees of Somerville Township will not get a wage increase in 1994. Negotiations between Somerville Council and township employees resulted in a wage freeze for 1994.

The Township will be advertising for part-time office help to take up some of the slack since Deputy-Clerk Mike Rutter left to take the Clerk's job at Glamorgan Township.

School gates issue finally resolved

by Andy Holloway

After three months of wrangling, the Haliburton County Board of Education has finally created a policy to deal with the openings and closings of the gates at three of its schools.

The gates at the entrance to the high school will be open weekdays between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. and closed at all other times unless for a specific reason as requested by the principal or board administration. The gates at J.D. Hodgson will remain open unless closed for a specific reason by the principal or board.

Archie Stouffer's gates will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays. They will be closed at all other times. The gates are on the bus loop at the back of the school.

The Stouffer situation caused a bit of a stir because principal Peter Forgrave wanted the gates to be open for a specific reason, like concerts or graduation. He said in a letter to the board that the number of parking spaces at the front of the school would be insufficient to accommodate such events. Forgrave received support from Minden trustees Wendy Ladurantaye and Bryan Kernohan who said it was reasonable to add his request.

Other trustees, however, disagreed. "If it is not adequate then we will know it and we can review it at that time," said John Munro (Sherborne).

Craig Petit (Glamorgan) said the rear drive is a fire access route. He said it would be better to keep the gates shut so that parked cars would not block access.

Wally Bunn (Minden) said the drive was opened for the buses and that there are more parking spaces at the school now than there were before.

The letter from Peter Forgrave was passed on to the management committee for consideration. As Wayne Woods (Dysart) noted, policies are just guidelines, they can be changed.

This week's advertising deadline is noon on Wednesday

Dysart council rejects Metro garbage offer

by Andy Holloway

The following brief items were discussed at Dysart Council last Monday.

Radar Mayday

The new automatic radar machine that the government says is designed to control speeding along Ontario's highways is an invasion of privacy and should not be tolerated says councillor Robert Heinze. "It's an invasion of privacy because it's not only taking pictures of the speeding car, but also all the cars around it. I don't like it. It's just another tax grab."

Council endorsed a motion to show its concern that the new photographic radar machines do not identify the driver of the car and will place another burden on an already loaded court system. Heinze had wanted to go one step further to make sure the province is aware that Dysart does not want the radar system "in case they (the province) get any silly ideas."

Rejecting Metro's garbage

Not surprisingly, Dysart council rejected an offer to apply as a dump site for Metro Toronto's 40 million tonnes of garbage. Metro is asking all municipalities to express their interest in an arrangement which would help serve its garbage disposal needs for the next 20 years. Leadbeatler said the proposal should be rejected because there is not any suitable space in the area. "We're having enough trouble of our own finding a landfill site."

Hyland Crest donation

While other councils are deferring any decision on whether to donate money to Hyland Crest for new

Briefly

Dysart Council Notes

furnishings, Dysart's council forged ahead and has given the senior's home $400 to buy whatever the facility needs. Councillor Gerry Walker suggested the $400 figure and councillor Lloyd Leadbeatler agreed. Leadbeatler said the home and its chief administrator deserved to know prior to the budget process how much help councils were going to give.

At least two other councils, however, have decided to wait until the municipal budget process begins in the new year. Both Stanhope and Minden council deferred a decision on donating funds.

Lottery confusion

New lottery licensing rules which will reduce the number of organizations that a municipality can authorize will go in effect on January 1. The province now must handle all requests for lotteries that are not from the immediate area and any committee of local councils. For example the Canadian Deaf/Blind and Rubella Association can not be licensed by the municipality, but it can apply to the province. Similarly, the West Guilford Recreation Committee can not apply to the municipality for a license, but it can apply to the province. But, Haliburton Nordic Trails can receive municipal permission to sell lottery tickets.

The rules make sure municipalities can only license those lotteries where they are sure the monies raised are kept in the county.

Correction

In a story concerning a proposed quarry on Boshkung Lake in the December 13 issue of The Times, the exact location was incorrectly stated. The quarry is proposed to be built on Lot 6, concession 2. The Times apologizes for any confusion caused by this error.

The members of the Community Action Group (a sub committee of the Social Action Committee) would like to thank the following individuals and organizations for their support and assistance in making Drug Awareness Week a success in Haliburton.

Minden Rotary Club Secretary Barry Cray (left) presents a cheque for $2,000 to Joel Levis, director of the Haliburton County Public Library. The money will be used to buy more large print books.

County library system to get more large print books

Haliburton's library system has received a $2,000 donation from the Minden Rotary Club to increase the number of large print books in circulation in this county.

Barry Cray, Secretary of the Rotary Club, presented a cheque to Joel Levis, director of the Haliburton County Public Library last week.

"In times of limited book budgets this financial support will go a long way towards bringing books into the lives of those of us with vision difficulties that are both long and especially short term in nature," said Levis. "Large print books cover just about every topic and title that you may imagine so we should be able to acquire something for just about everyone."

Specific purchases will be made on the basis of the greatest possible interest and the best possible price, said Levis. "They will probably be paperback format, but of a design which makes them extremely durable and very easy to handle."

The books will initially be placed in the Minden Branch, but will be available to all library users through the Board's commitment to resource sharing.

Levis said he hopes the support shown by the Rotary Club will continue in the future. Rotary made a similar donation last year.

Editorial deadlines

Contributors to The Times are reminded that the deadlines for submitting material for the next edition is Wednesday at 4p.m. This applies to regular columns, like Senior League, as well as Minden Monarchs' reports and other releases. Thank you for your help.

Busy fall schedule gave Lions plenty to do

Your Minden and District Lions Club has been very busy this fall.

On September 27 we hosted the Governors Joint Zone Advisory Meeting. The Lioness Club hosted the Lioness District on October 6, at which the Lions served dinner to the near 100 Lionesses present. We assisted in the tree planting at the fair grounds sponsored by Dollo's IGA on October 16. October 23 saw our Lions serve lunch to the Lions, Lionesses and their friends that assisted in the shutdown of Lions Camp Kirk at Kirkfield. Some Lions, their wives, Lionesses and their husbands attended the 40th anniversary of the Coboconk Lions on Oct. 30.

Several of the Lions on November 7 assisted the Lionesses with their bingo. A Lions membership orientation seminar was held in the Minden Curling Club on November 14 and our club was host, serving a light lunch to the many Lions from our district. To top off the month of November the Lions coordinated the Minden Community Santa Claus Parade. On top of all these events, many of our Lions travelled many kilometres on visitations to other Lions Clubs in our district and neighboring districts. As well, the Lions have been selling their Christmas cakes. Sale of the cakes has been even better than last year.

The Program and Entertainment Committee has provided our dinner meetings with some very entertaining guest speakers. Just to mention a few, District Governor Lion Bill Brady, Lion John Moffat for Lions Home for the Deaf and Donna Pacey from Haliburton County Home Support Services.

Our annual Awards and Christmas Dinner meeting was held on December 8 with 50 Lions, Lioness and guests attending. After a lovely dinner served by Area 5, presentations to the representatives of the winning floats in the Santa Claus Parade was made by parade coordinator Lion Bob Harrington. Twelve of the Lions received their 100 per cent attendance pins for the 1992-93 year. The combined years of perfect attendance for the 12 Lions is 67 years. Lion Greg Readmen, our current Region Chairman, also received his 10 year Monarch Award. Lion Greg joins four of our other Lions with Monarch Awards for a total of 65 years.

people that have helped to make the Minden Community Santa Claus Parade so successful this year and in the past. A life-time membership to Lions Foundation of Canada was presented to Don Crowe, Russ Duhaime, Gordon Monk and the Minden Fire Department.

We want to say a special thank you to the following organizations for their financial support of this year's parade: Minden Legion Branch 636, Minden Rotary, Minden Lioness and Minden BIA.

As this is my last report for 1993, I personally want to thank The Times for the assistance and space supplied for the Lions column. To the residents of Minden and area, the Lions Club thanks you for your support and we wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Healthy New Year.

The Lions regular weekly bingo returns on January 6, 1994.

Seniors meet pen pals from Archie Stouffer

Our Hyland Crest week started out with the soothing piano music of John Menzies. We thank him sincerely. Sunday afternoon Estella Burch read to us from the very interesting book she started some time ago. Thank you Estella. In the evening, Chapel service was conducted by Reverend John Burgess with Ruth Worthington playing the organ. Our grateful thanks to John and Ruth.

After 'Keep Fit' Monday morning the residents gathered in Poet's Corner to compose a Christmas poem, "I Remember Christmas". I went with Terry to Peterborough to finish my shopping.

Tuesday Chapel service was taken by Louise Leonard. The residents enjoyed her service and thank her very much. In the afternoon crafts session we were making things to brighten our Christmas. In the evening Corinne Arsenault guided us to play a few games of cards, for which we thank her.

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Wednesday we worked again at crafts so we would have enough and Sid and Earl Cooper came to entertain us with piano, violin, mandolin and spoon music. We enjoyed them very much and thank them sincerely.

Also, teachers of grade five students, Bonnie Berry and Judy Johnson, brought their pupils (who are pen pals of some of the residents) to the main lounge to meet their pen pals here. We were introduced and got to know each other. Drinks and cake were served to each pen pal resident by their counterpart pupil. Each pupil had made a Christmas card for us and we gave them a card with a little note in it. After a tour of the home they returned to school.

The Thursday Tea Party was catered by the ladies of Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church. It was a delicious tea served by Bruna Foran, Pearl Durant, Fern Donnelly and Anne Mahar. A resident, Lucile Clarke, played piano music for us during our tea. It was a happy social hour and we thank everyone from our hearts.

Kathy Woods came Thursday night and called bingo for us. There are quite a number of residents who play bingo now. It helps pass an enjoyable evening for us. Thank you Kathy very much.

Frank Faulkner, Connie and Mike Biagi were the entertainers for Happy Hour on Friday. There were several visitors present. Edna McElwain played the piano. The saxophone makes a nice change in the music. Volunteers were Don Holden, Dottie Muirhead and Bonnie Fullan. Our sincere thanks to everyone who made this Happy Hour possible.

Electronic medium leading us down the path to ruin

On November 28, CBC radio's Sunday Morning featured two seemingly unrelated reports: one on the implications of the "electronic information highway", the other on the catastrophic decline of the Newfoundland fishery.

The juxtaposition of the two stories made sense when viewed as different reflections of the multifaceted face of global ecological change.

Both stories are linked through the most astonishing social phenomenon in this century - the unprecedented shift in human populations from small stable rural communities to cities.

In 1900, there were fewer than 10 cities in the world with more than a million people. Today, Australia alone already has five cities exceeding a million and by the year 2000, there will be hundreds in the world, some with populations of far greater than 10 million. This incredible transition from rural to urban living has been accompanied by an explosive growth in demand for the planet's resources and in technology that gives is the ability to supply it. Northern cod are the most recent and visible victims.

The decline was inevitable as world demand for fish skyrocketed and technological change made fishing too deadly. First came Soviet trawlers, huge floating factories to process everything their nets could trap. The draggers then followed pulling enormous weights and nets across the ocean floor and grinding up complex bottom habitat like a giant plow. Then the inshore fishermen adopted deadly technologies - bigger nets, radar, and sonic detectors.

Finally, capelin, the abundant smelt-like fish that are food for northern cod, were harvested in large quantities for roe to send to Japan. Reports two weeks ago indicate the fish populations continue to plummet in spite of the fishing moratorium.

As human technological muscle power has increased, we have simply used it to attack natural populations and habitats as if they were limitless. Few questioned the wisdom of increasing technological prowess because we live with a pervasive belief that progress is defined by what is modern.

For most city dwellers, nature is becoming increasingly distant and abstract. Ask them where fish come from and chances are the answer will be "the store." Ask the sales clerk where the fish they are selling were caught. You will be surprised how often they don't know.

Clearcut logging, giant dams and urban development diminish opportunities for city dwellers to experience nature firsthand. So we spend more time served by machines in human created surroundings, depending ever more on television for what we know about the natural world.

But the vaunted electronic highway will only accelerate our separation from the real world. The images projected on television are a fabrication, an illusion created by the collage of shots, edits, sound effects and script. As industrial giants invest billions of dollars in infrastructure to control the info highway, their main challenge is "to create a market" for it. It's being sold to the public on the promise of movies on demand, 500 channels of programming and the ability to do everything at home - shop, bank and reserve plane flights.

But the technology is not driven by genuine human needs. The reason for its existence as a concept is profit. To recoup the massive investments being made, the medium must be focussed primarily on selling products, not delivering meaningful services or programming. In addition, as viewers graze through a growing list of choices, their attention must be attracted and held. So it's no surprise that programs are faster paced, short, sensational and superficial.

Furthermore, television programs are expensive. Instead of democratizing access to the air waves, the info highway will concentrate the source of information in fewer hands. So what we will learn from the apparent array of choices will reflect a narrowing set of perspectives and values. That constriction in perspective is already obvious. What is passed off as "world news" on CNN is essentially an American slant on the world with its heavy emphasis on personalities, business, sports and fashions. Furthermore, what is actually broadcast on any channel depends on approval from a corporate structure driven primarily by the need to make money. What makes it as world news on CNN has little to do with the really important factors that are affecting the world and shaping our lives.

Meanwhile, we are increasing our distance from the factors that make our lives possible. Newfoundland fisheries have already paid an expensive price for the unquestioned assumption that newer and bigger are better.

A rejection of the "benefits" of the info highway could begin a shift toward a reconnection with the natural world that might help us learn to live in balance with it.

For euchre players, there will be games at Lochlin Centre on December 21 at 7:30 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Audrey and Burt Chamberlain of Scarborough visited with her sister, Irene Moore, last Thursday.

Correction from last week - the place where Marion Sedgwick is named Burgeo - sorry about that!

Mary Wilson, Mike and Cindy enjoyed a great visit with Tim Hughes, Mary's nephew from Australia. Tim left Melbourne last February and was in India, Europe and the U.S.A. He really likes our north country and will be back in the new year.

Congratulations to Primrose Birrell with ticket #94 who was the winner of the quilt by the Senior Legion group. You might have noticed the quilt hanging up in Legion Branch 636.

St. Paul's Anglican church had a great turnout for their lessons and carols last Sunday evening, December 12.

All good wishes to those on the sick list - some names we're aware of - Eleanor Young, home after surgery, Lil Martin, Horrie Baker and Florence Robinson.

The yearly Strategic Planning session will be held on January 11 from Taking a chance mentioning that we have had almost a week of great clear weather. Cold at first but lovely today (Thursday) but we hear some people are praying for snow! (Who can they be?)

Dorothy McElwain was away recently visiting Rick and Deb McElwain and boys in Lindsay.

Kit Schroter has been away visiting relatives in Parry Sound.

Club 35 euchre winners on December 13 included, for most lone hands, Helen Lee, high lady and man were Verna Sawyer and Jim Irwin while others were Pearl Kernohan, Pat Scadden and Jim Irwin. The 50-50 draw went to Olive Daniels. Don't forget their New Year's Eve Party!

Three of us from "The Terrace" enjoyed the turkey dinner at Stanhope Seniors Club December 13 and a social time with country music by Al Blanchard, Frank Faulkner and M.C. Bill Payne. Everyone joined in singing Christmas songs. Thanks to those who prepared the meal and helped clear it away.

Irene Moore's family held their Christmas get-together December 12 at the home of Helen and Al Brydson of Bracebridge. Nineteen family members attended the pot luck meal and enjoyed the exchange of Christmas ornaments. A great time was reportedly had by all.

Recent guests with the Bob Vick family were Bud Dart, Dale and Tyler Vick of Vandorf and Frank and Marion Bacon of Bobcaygeon.

Euchre game winners at St. Paul's on December 13 included Elli Langpohl with most lone hands while others were Katie Parker, Marie Dennie, Roberta Walker. There will be no games December 27 but the weekly Monday afternoon games start again January 4 at 1:30 p.m.

Branch 636 Seniors Group had euchre games December 14 with winners being Mary Wilson for most lone hands, Shirley Elcome, Verna McDonald and Marg McAfee. Next games will be held January 4. We heard also that they might be having crafts that same morning so call for information 286-3509.

Bridge game winners at Stanhope on December 14 were Earl Hayne, Gloria Moore and John Klok. Next games at Stanhope will be held January 4 at 1 p.m. with everyone welcome.

Gelert Centre had their night euchre games on December 14 and winners there included Murray MacKinnon for most lone hands, Betty Curry, Betty Cartwright, Gerald Hicks and Dan Curry. Next games there are December 28 at 7:30 p.m.

Wishing you your favourite things and dreams that all come true. Especially on Christmas Day and throughout 1994 have great good health and happiness. Many thanks to all who help me with my column. Please call me NEXT year.

GILL, Herbert Sr.

In his 88th year, peacefully at Minden Hospital on December 4, 1993. Cremation preceded a private family service at Mount Pleasant Cemetery in Toronto. To all who had the pleasure of knowing Herb, at a later date a memorial gathering will be planned, so that our happy memories of his time with us will be brought to the foreground. Our sincere appreciation and thanks to the doctors and staff, the ambulance drivers and the V.O.N., for all the loving care Herb received at home and at the Minden Hospital.

WARD,

Earl Roderick James

- Suddenly at his residence in Minden on Wednesday, December 15, 1993 in his 64th year. Beloved husband of the late Olive Lillian Ward, dear father of Barry of Toronto and Daryl of Minden. Dear brother of Marion (Mrs Harry Clark) of Wilberforce, Joan (Mrs. Wayne Taylor) of Minden and Winnifred (Mrs Jack Taylor) of Barrie.

IN MEMORIAM

McLEAN, Jean Eleanor - In memory of my beloved wife who left us on December 20, 1987.

Alone, but never quite alone
I face an empty chair
But sometimes in the silence
I imagine Jean is there.
My companion for so many years
No longer here with me
And yet in some mysterious way
She keeps me company.
Sleep gently Jeannie until we meet again. I love you and I miss you.
Mac.

ROWDEN, Junior and Shirley - In loving memory of a dear son and daughter-in-law who left us December 20, 1988.

Loved with a love beyond all telling
Missed with a grief beyond all tears.
Never forgotten by Mother Nell and families.

SEDGWICK, Elgin Dawson - In loving memory of our dear husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather who passed away on December 24, 1989.

The world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.
The silent grief that's in the soul
No human life can trace
For many an aching heart is hid
Behind a smiling face.
Lovingly remembered by your wife Clara and all your family.
